Visiting Scholar

The Department gladly accepts Italian and Foreign scholars wanting to spend a research period in it at their own expense. The scholars will have access to the paper and digital books, according to the Library's rules, and they will have a workplace with Internet connection.

Each scholar can register his interest to come to the Department for a research period by writing to the teachers and the researchers or directly to: direzione.dirpubblico@unipd.it

Once the request has been evaluated, the Department, represented by the Director or a single teacher or researcher, will send a formal invitation letter to the candidate, bestowing upon him the qualification of Visiting Scholar and, therefore, allowing him access to the Libraries of the Department.

The International Relations Service will offer assistance in finding accommodation in the residences agreed upon with the University.

The Visiting Scholar must pay for an insurance, which is compulsory and at the expense of the candidate, against the injuries and civil responsibility, related to the events occurring while being present in the Department (€ 8.50).
